

In the Claims:

Please amend claim 1 as follows:

1. (Amended) A method of producing a soy-based product comprising:
preparing a dough by combining dry ingredients including a soy component and a pre-gelatinized starch with wet ingredients including water at a temperature sufficient to gelatinize the pre-gelatinized starch, wherein the soy component comprises from about 60% to about 90% by weight of the dry ingredients, the pre-gelatinized starch comprises from about 10% to about 40% by weight of the dry ingredients, and the wet ingredients comprise from about 25% to about 45% by weight of the dough; [sheeting the dough and cutting] forming a dough piece from the dough; and baking the dough piece.